WELCOME

Welcome to the United States Probation Office for the Western District of North Carolina and for those of you releasing from a facility, welcome home.

Everyone is unique and has individual needs, concerns, and perhaps problems that must be addressed. While probation officers must address concerns about public safety and the risk any person on supervision may present to the community, we also want to assist you in making positive changes in your life and achieving a successful reentry into the community.

Your success rests with you, but we are here to help you if you let us. We ask that you work with your probation officer to develop goals to address your individual risks/need to reduce your chances to recidivate and increase your chances to be successful while on supervision and beyond.

We have programs throughout the district which provide an array of services that may assist you. Many of you are required by your court ordered conditions to participate in these programs; therefore, we will place you in the program best suited to address your needs. If you are not required to participate in a treatment program, but feel that services will help you to comply with supervision and improve your life, please speak with your officer immediately, and we will assist you in obtaining the needed services.

While on supervision, we expect you to adhere to your conditions of supervision. We also expect and want you to become a positive, contributing member of our community. You should expect our officers and other staff members to conduct themselves professionally and respectfully when they interact with you.

Finally, we prefer that you have an appointment when visiting your officer at the office. However, if during business hours you feel that you need to speak to someone about a matter urgent to you and you do not have an appointment, please feel free to come to the office and ask to speak to your officer. If your officer is unavailable, then ask for the duty officer or a supervisor. Someone will see you to address your concerns.

Again, welcome to the United States Probation Office for the Western District of North Carolina.

Sincerely,

MONTHLY SUPERVISION REPORTS

The current standard condition in the Western District of North Carolina concerning monthly supervision reports requires you report to your probation officer in a manner and frequency directed by the Court or probation officer.

The probation officer may require you to submit a monthly supervision report by the 5th of every month. The report must be complete, accurate, and signed. You may also be required to attach employment and wage verification or other documentation required by the officer.

The report may be submitted using traditional paper forms or utilizing the Electronic Reporting System (which includes Kiosk in the lobby of the probation offices or internet). Your probation officer will provide instructions about which method will be preferred.

An example of the written form is included on the next two pages. Instructions for completing supervision reports by internet follow thereafter.

You will be given the opportunity to personally make the disclosure within a reasonable period of time.

This program is facilitated by probation officers in our Charlotte, Hickory, and Asheville offices. You may be referred to this program by your probation officer.

INTERACTIVE JOURNALING®

Designed and created by The Change Companies®, in collaboration with U.S. Probation and Bureau of Prisons' staff, Interactive Journaling® is a cognitive behavioral activity that addresses criminogenic needs in key life areas, including Getting Started, Social Values, Responsible Thinking/Healthy Personality, Self-Control, Peer Relationships, Family Ties, Substance Abuse, Skills for Successful Living, and Strategies for Success. If you participated in Interactive Journaling® or any similar program while at the Residential Reentry Center or the Bureau of Prisons, please discuss this information with your probation officer.

LOCATION MONITORING

Location monitoring is an alternative to incarceration. Unless waived by the Court, you may be required to pay for the cost of location monitoring. This special condition of supervision may require you to abide by the following:

- Have a telephone line designated for the location monitoring device that is without special features, such as call forwarding, caller ID, call waiting, modems, answering machines, cordless telephones or other special services.
- Provide a proposed schedule or changes thereof to your probation officer, which may include hours of employment, travel time, scheduled medical appointments, treatment-related appointments, or other activities approved in advance by the probation officer.

This court-ordered condition requires you to perform a predetermined number of volunteer service hours. Placement will be facilitated by your probation officer. The community service work site must be pre-approved by your probation officer before you perform any service hours.

Certain work details or projects may be supervised directly by the probation office. At times, probation officers may oversee the work being directed by a recipient agency or be present merely to observe. One example of this is the Federal Community Service Forestry Project. If referred to the Forestry Project, which includes a four day work week, you may receive up to 150 hours of credit. NOTE: Transportation to/from the Forestry Project, lodging, and meals are at your own expense.

COMMUNITY SERVICE

Community service is unpaid work for a civic or nonprofit organization.

VETERAN'S INFORMATION

If you have prior military service, you may be eligible for certain federal benefits. Please notify your supervising officer if you have previously served in the U.S. Military.

SELECTIVE SERVICE REQUIREMENTS

All males between the ages of 18 and 25 must register with the Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. Incarcerated men in the above age range are exempt from the registration requirements; however, they must register within 30 days of their release but before their 26th birthday.

Failure to comply with this directive may result in loss of benefits, such as student financial aid, federal and state employment, and job training under the Job Training Partnership Act. In addition, failure to register is a felony offense that carries a fine up to $250,000 and imprisonment up to five years.

You may register on-line at:

WWW.SSS.GOV

Persons with convictions for criminal offenses punishable by death or imprisonment for a term exceeding one year are ineligible for induction into the military unless a waiver is granted. Individuals on supervision are generally ineligible for military service. A six month interval between the termination of supervision and acceptance into the military may be required.

JURY DUTY

If you have been convicted in a state or federal court of a crime punishable by imprisonment for more than one year and your civil rights have not been restored, you are not qualified to serve as a juror in the United States District Court. Additionally, if you have been convicted of a felony, you are not qualified to serve as a juror in the State of North Carolina until your citizenship has been restored as provided by law. If you receive a summons for jury duty, then you should contact the issuing agency and advise of your felony conviction.

VOTING RIGHTS

If you are convicted of a felony, you temporarily lose your citizenship rights in North Carolina, including your right to vote. Any prior voter registration you had before your felony conviction is cancelled by the County Board of Elections. Any attempt to register to vote prior to the restoration of your rights is a felony offense in violation of North Carolina General Statute §163-275(5).

Your right to vote is restored after you have been unconditionally discharged from prison, probation, supervised release, or parole; unconditionally pardoned; or conditionally pardoned with all conditions satisfied.

When you complete your term of supervision, you will receive information regarding restoration of rights. Thereafter, you will need to re-register to vote in your county of residence.

FORFEITURE OF OTHER CIVIL RIGHTS AND RESTORATION

There are other federal and state civil rights forfeited as a result of a felony conviction. Please refer to the “Notice Regarding Civil Rights” included in the Appendix for further information and the general procedure for the restoration of rights in North Carolina.

CONTINUITY OF OPERATIONS

In the event of a man-made or natural disaster that requires the closing of a probation office, the district has established procedures to update your officer on your location and your condition.

If telephone lines are operable, you may call and leave a voicemail message for your officer advising him/her of your current location and condition. However, if phone service is not available, the following website will allow you to notify your officer:

<http://www.ncwp.uscourts.gov>

Upon opening the site, go to “Contact Us,” scroll to the bottom of the page and select “to contact your probation officer, click here for details.” Include in the email your current location, your current condition and contact information, if possible.

If the event or situation requires the long term closing of a particular probation office, you may continue to contact your officer by phone or email. Please remember to update any information that may have changed.

CRIMINAL DEBT

Criminal debt payments can be made by the following methods:

In person: The Asheville, Statesville and Charlotte Clerk's Offices accept payments by cash, check, money order or cashier's check. Credit card payments are NOT accepted for criminal debt payments.

By mail: Payments by check, money order or cashier's check must include the defendant's name and case number for accurate application to the defendant's account. Do NOT mail cash. Payments can be made at the following addresses:

ASHEVILLE	STATESVILLE	CHARLOTTE
Clerk, U.S. District Court Attn: Cashier Room 309, U.S. Courthouse 100 Otis Street Asheville, NC 28801	Clerk, U.S. District Court Attn: Cashier U.S. Courthouse 200 West Broad St., Room 100 Statesville, NC 28677	Clerk, U.S. District Court Attn: Cashier U.S. Courthouse Room 210, 401 West Trade St. Charlotte, NC 28202

The District Court provides pre-addressed envelopes to defendants for submitting payments. Defendants may also request a supply from the U.S. Probation Office.

Via the BOP: If a defendant is incarcerated, he/she may participate in the Inmate Financial Responsibility Program through the Bureau of Prisons. The BOP deducts funds from prisoner accounts on a monthly or quarterly basis and forwards these funds to the District Court for application to his/her outstanding criminal debt.

Wage Garnishment: Working defendants on supervision can have up to 25% of their wages garnished. Garnishments are initiated by the Financial Litigation Unit (FLU) with the U.S. Attorney's Office on a case-by-case basis, often based on U.S. probation officer's recommendations and the delinquency status of the debt. If the employer is the victim and is retaining the funds to apply towards the debt, the Court typically does not get notified of these payments. The defendant must notify either the FLU or the District Court Finance Department. FLU or Finance personnel will obtain confirmation from the victim and subsequently apply these payments to the defendant's outstanding debt.

Via the TOP: The Treasury Offset Program is a means for the Court to collect payments by offsetting any payments the defendant may receive from the U.S. Treasury, including, but not limited to, tax refunds, tax incentive checks, Social Security, disability, Civil Service retirement, etc. Funds collected are forwarded to the District Court and applied to the defendant's outstanding criminal debt.

Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3612(c) and § 3612(c)(i), payments made toward a criminal debt are applied as follows:

- (1) Special penalty assessments
 - (2) Restitution principal and interest
 - (a) Non-federal, non-insurance companies
 - (b) Insurance companies
 - (c) Federal agencies
 - (3) Fine principal and interest
 - (4) Community restitution
 - (5) Penalties
 - (6) Costs of prosecution

Payments made by defendants in joint and several cases are applied on a pro rata basis to the joint debt and any individual debt based on the priority of payments. Defendants are liable for the entire joint and several debt listed in their judgment, even if the co-defendants are not making any payments.

Penalties: Pursuant to 18 U.S.C. § 3612(g), “If a fine or restitution becomes delinquent, the defendant shall pay, as a penalty, an amount equal to 10% of the principal amount that is delinquent.” If the debt becomes in default, an additional penalty equal to 15% of the principal amount that is in default will be due from the defendant.

CASE INQUIRY

Case Inquiry Reports, which gives the balance and history of a defendant’s criminal debt, can be requested by e-mailing: financial@ncwd.uscourts.gov or calling District Court Finance Department at the number on the front of this brochure. Please note that these reports DO NOT indicate the payoff amount. Due to current system limitations, the criminal debt tracking system of the District Court does not assess interest or penalties. Defendants who are seeking the payoff amount may contact the Finance Department by email or telephone. Finance personnel will contact the FLU of the U.S. Attorney's Office for the interest and penalties incurred to date, if applicable.

RETURNED CHECKS

If a check submitted by a defendant is returned for Non-Sufficient Funds (NSF), also referred to as “bounced,” per statute, the Court must assess a $45.00 NSF fee. A letter is sent to the payer, the defendant (if different), the U.S. Probation Office and the U.S. Attorney’s Office. The letter is also posted as a docket entry in the case tracking system. The NSF fee, as well as the original payment, must be made “good” or be subject to prosecution by the U.S. Attorney’s Office. If a party submits a non-sufficient funds check, he or she may be placed on a Cash or Money Order ONLY basis. When submitting payment for the NSF fee, please note on the face of the check that a portion of the payment is for the NSF fee. If it is not specifically noted, payment could be applied to any outstanding criminal debt.

General Procedure for the Restoration of North Carolina Civil Rights which have been lost:

Chapter 13 of the General Statutes of North Carolina has been amended to include persons convicted of crimes against the United States who have been unconditionally discharged by the federal agency having jurisdiction of such person or who has been pardoned.

The person who has been unconditionally discharged or pardoned must go before the Clerk of Court in the County in which he/she resides and must show that he/she has been unconditionally discharged or pardoned. Proof of discharge or pardon can be shown by presenting to the Clerk "any paper writing" from the agency or the agency of the U.S. Government, which had jurisdiction over such person, such papers showing that there has been an unconditional discharge or pardon. There is no requirement that the paper writing must be verified. The Clerk then issues the Certificate restoring the Rights of Citizenship. The Clerk shall file the Certificate as though it were a civil action bearing such person's name and shall treat the Certificate as a civil action in the Superior Court. The Clerk should also access a miscellaneous document recording fee.

Upon the proper completion of a term of probation or parole, the U.S. Probation Office will issue a letter of discharge/termination. With that letter, one can make application for restoration of rights affected by filing the discharge letter with the Clerk of Superior Court.

When you complete the period of supervision, the Probation Office will fully advise you regarding the restoration of rights lost.

United States Pretrial and Probation

OFFENDER/DEFENDANT INFORMATION ON RANDOM DRUG TESTING PROCEDURES

As a condition of your release, the Court has imposed the special condition that you submit to DRUG TESTING AS DIRECTED BY PRETRIAL SERVICES OR PROBATION.

Drug testing will be conducted by using a random schedule. When scheduled to submit a urine test, you must report to your testing site at their specified testing hours. If you are unable to report for a test for any reason, you are to notify your Pretrial Services or Probation Officer immediately.

Prior to submitting a urine test, excess amounts of fluid should not be consumed in an attempt to dilute your urine. Attempting to dilute your urine is considered tampering with the urine collection procedures, and could be considered a violation of your release conditions and may be reported to the court. A creatinine level of ≤ 19.9 mg/dL is considered a dilute specimen.

In the presence of a certified urine collector, the following procedures are to be followed:

1. If you are taking any medications, then notify the collector at the time of collection. If you are taking prescribed medications, then verification of the prescription is required.
2. All jackets, coats, and concealing clothing must be removed or adjusted before you provide a urine specimen. Purses and other carried items are to be left outside the restroom facilities or in the control of the collector.
3. Long sleeves must be rolled up, and hands rinsed with cold water and dried thoroughly before urinating.
4. You will select a clean bottle, (for women, a wide-mouthed cup) in which to urinate while being observed by the collector. After urinating into the bottle*, close bottle cap firmly and follow the collector's instructions on how to seal the specimen. Women shall pour the urine from the wide-mouthed cup into the specimen bottle and follow the same procedure. UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES IS THE SPECIMEN BOTILE OR WIDE-MOUTHED CUP TO BE RINSED.
*Urine must fill the specimen bottle to at least 30 ml or half the bottle.
5. Read and sign the offender/defendant certification statement on the chain of custody form, verifying that the urine specimen is yours.
6. You must be prepared to provide a fresh, unadulterated, and undiluted urine specimen when scheduled for testing. If you are unable to urinate, or cannot submit an adequate amount, it may be considered a "stall" and a violation of your release conditions.

ANY ATTEMPT TO FALSIFY OR ADULTERATE THE DRUG TEST WILL BE CONSIDERED A FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THE COURT-ORDERED DRUG TESTING CONDITIONS.

I have read, fully understand, and will abide by these procedures. I further understand that a positive test may result in the modification of my release conditions or the revocation of my release.
